Japanese Umeshu Spec Sheet

| Vineyard: | CHOYA Umeshu Co.Ltd |
| Founded: | 1914 |
| Vineyard Notes: | Umeshu has undergone significant changes over the years, particularly in terms of base spirit in which the ume are soaked to produce the final beverage. Originally, the fruit was soaked in koshu (a type of aged sake). This was later replaced with honkaku shochu, then again with multiple-distilled shochu. These drastic shifts were driven by the desire to make the most of ume's natural properties. The Umeshu experts at CHOYA, we are committed to meeting the ever-changing needs of our increasingly diverse customer base to create ever better products. We will continue to work with a large number of ume growers in Japan, making full use of the quality fruit they cultivate with care and expertise, in order to realise innovation and excellence in our Umeshu. |

| Tasting Notes |
| Indulge yourself in this special Umeshu infused with the best Japanese green tea from the Uji region in Kyoto. Using our special coldly-brewed-for-aroma method to bring out the best of the Uji tea, enjoy the elegant taste and the relaxing aroma of this unique drink. Serve it cold on-the-rocks or warm it up, excellent to pair with food. |
